Book 2-3

caillou gets dressed

Storyteller: That's the laundry finished, time for a treat, kids. It's story time. Now, what did Caillou do today? Uh, yes. Today's story is called "Caillou gets dressed". Laundry day was a very busy day in Caillou's house. And Caillou was....., Well, Caillou was busy helping out.

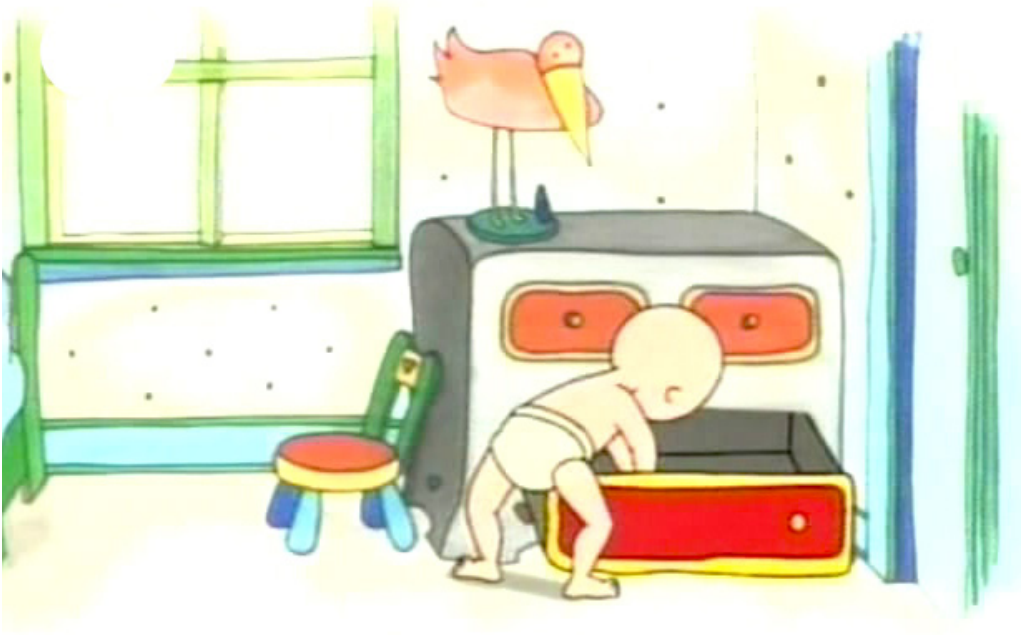

Caillou: Where's the door? Wow! I can't play with you now, Gilbert.

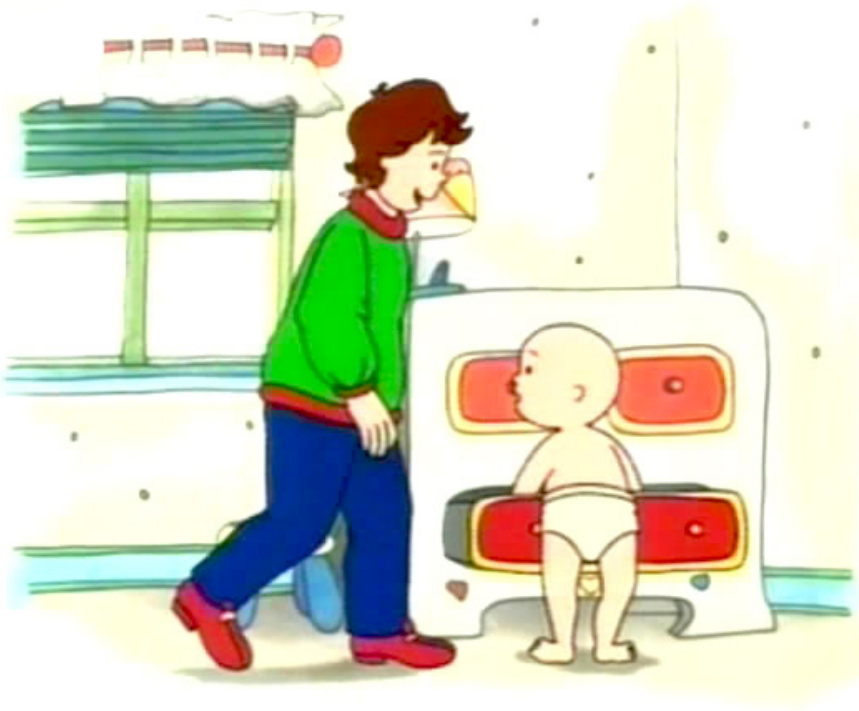

Caillou: Wow! Look, what I brought, Mommy?

Mommy: Thank you, Caillou.

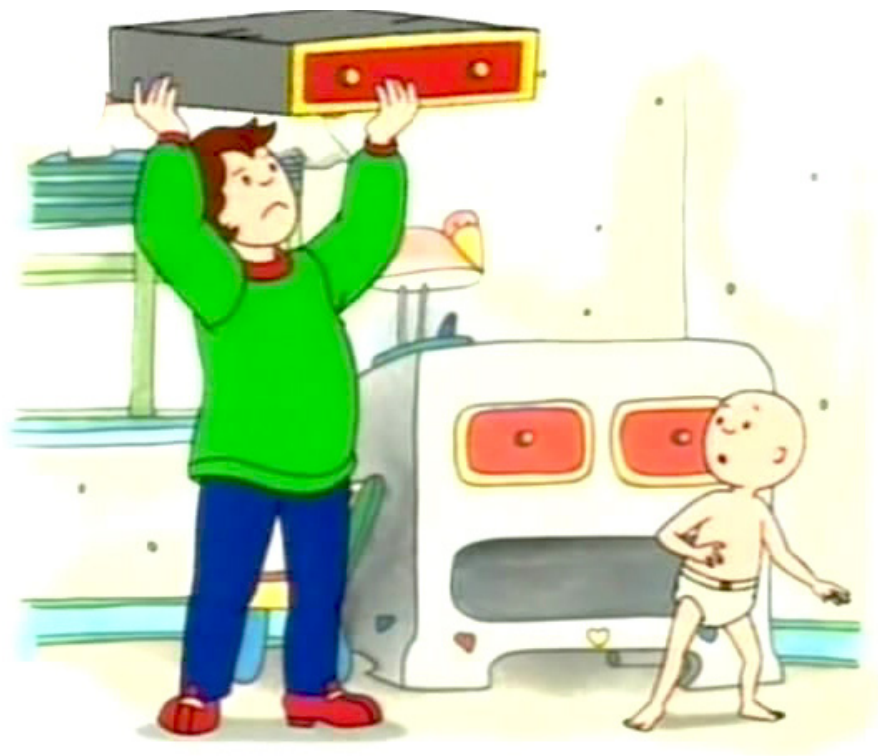

Storyteller: Caillou thought if he was big enough to help Mommy do the laundry. He was big enough to get dressed by himself. There was only one problem. He brought all his clothes downstairs. So he had nothing to wear.

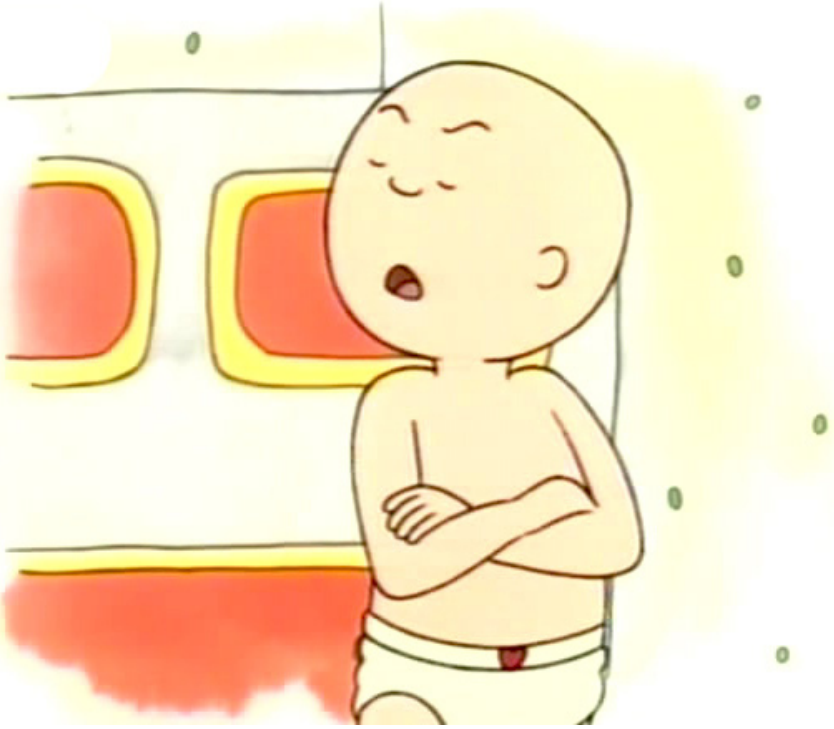

Daddy: Caillou, Shhh...! You'll wake Rosie.
Why are you in your underpants?

Caillou: I don't have any clothes!

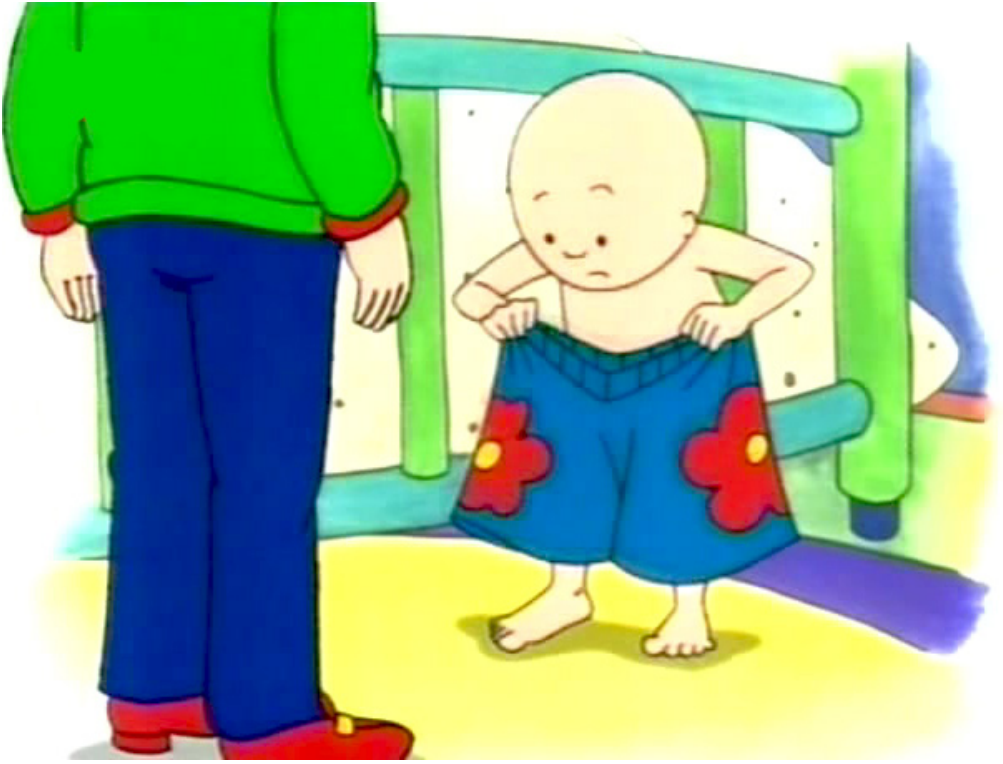

Daddy: That can't be right. You have tons of clothes. Goodness! You are right. I know, we can play a game. You can dress up.

Caillou: I can't wear grown-up clothes,
Daddy!

Daddy: Why can't you?

Caillou: I'm too little.

Daddy: We'll see about that. Aha, here we are. They fit great! If you'll be so kind, just to try this on, sir?

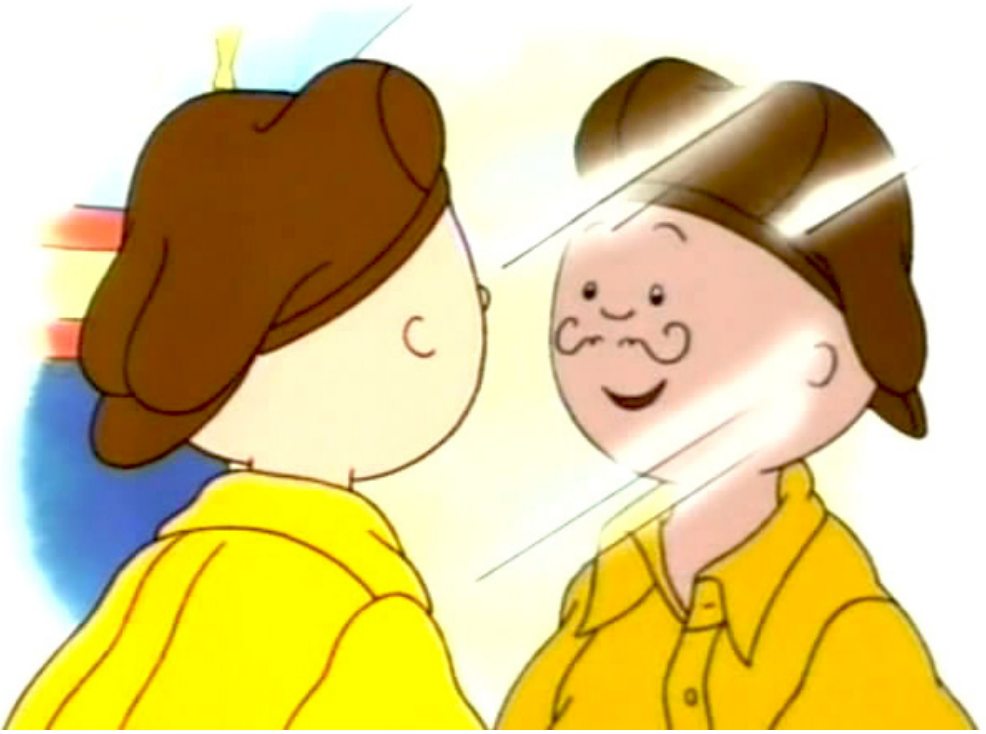

Caillou: That tickles. Can I have a hat too?

Caillou: Let me see, let me see.

Daddy: Hang on, you need something else.
Hum, every inch a gentleman.

Caillou: I love my moustache, Daddy.

Daddy: Who says you're too small for grown-up clothes.

Caillou: Yeah!

Mommy: Caillou! Look at you all dressed up! You are so handsome.

Mommy: I want a picture of my two men.
